

Vanguard's "Ask an Advisor" Service

Available at No Cost to Getty Employees Age 55+

A lot of questions can come up when you're saving for retirement.

Will I have enough to retire?

How should I invest?

How should I withdraw my money?

No matter how big or small your financial questions, you can pick up the phone and ask a Vanguard advisor.

Vanguard's advisors can answer questions on a wide range of financial topics, from basic investing, to college, retirement, and estate planning. If you just have a quick question, you'll get a quick answer.

If you're planning to retire in the next few years, there are many things to consider: retirement income, tax planning, health care, Social Security. Whether you make use of these services available through Vanguard, or utilize a different professional, it can be a wise time to engage the services of a financial planning professional.

Vanguard's advisors are salaried professionals. They receive no commissions for any of their recommendations. Their advice is meant to benefit you, not themselves.

Ask an Advisor at 800-310-8952

Monday through Friday

8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m., Eastern time

To receive advice, you must be logged on to your account at vanguard.com to sign an electronic consent form your advisor will send you. Not sure how to log on? Click here for instructions on accessing your online account:

<https://www.gettybenefits.com/GuidesAndForms/VanguardWebInstructions.pdf>

The J. Paul Getty Trust